Curriculum vitae

Nataša Lalatović Đorđević is an attorney at law with Moravčević Vojnović i Partneri in cooperation with Schoenherr and co-head of its Dispute Resolution practice group. Nataša's practice is primary focused on complex commercial litigation and investment arbitration cases. She represents leading international and domestic companies, investment funds and banks, in courtrooms, before administrative bodies and in international arbitration. She acted as counsel in arbitrations conducted under ICSID, ICC and UNCITRAL rules. Her experience includes successfully defending a major electricity supplier in arbitration relating to development of new thermal power plant. Her most assignments include representing foreign investors in two ICSID investment arbitration cases against the Republic of Serbia. Nataša is also successfully co-heading our law firm's Employment practice group.
